Course site in Mongolia

Dhamma Maṅgala, meaning ‘Auspicious Dhamma’, is established near the city of Ulaanbaater. More than 200 students participated in each of the first two courses held in 1997 in a campsite in Mongolia. These two courses generated so much enthusiasm for Dhamma that it was decided to establish a Centre immediately. Ten-day, Satipaṭṭhāna and 20-day courses are now held at the centre.
